To Whom It May Concern:

I have been privileged to work with Galit Ido as an operator and Reuven Zusman a Guides for the past 15 years. Their level of excellence when it comes to customer service is second to none. From point of contact to feet on the ground, Galit and Reuven handle every detail to ensure the best experience for group leaders and their teams. In addition, what separates this organization from others is their customer-first approach. With other tour companies, you will usually be strongly encouraged to follow their specific suggestions. However, with Galit and Reuven, they intently listen to your desires, and work with you to try and accommodate your wishes to ensure that you have the best experience possible.

I am currently in discussions for our next trip to the Holy Land, and I couldn't think of anyone else I would want as my operator and guide.

If you are planning your trip to the Holy Land, there is no better place to start than with Galit and Reuven.

Blessings,
